Interesting Items in Register For June 30, 1915

NEWS DEPT.: A. M. (P. A.) Hetherington, our postmaster, brought in a June 30, 1915, edition of The Daily Register.

We accused the postoffice of just being a bit slow in its delivery of the paper to someone but Port proved that it was one that had been filed at the postoffice according to regulations. It bore the filing mark of 6/30/15 which was signed "J. Odum." John Odum was postmaster then.

* * *

Here's a fine item from the paper. It's in the "Dorrisville No. 2" items and all it says is: "It seems as though everybody should be able to say, 'Hurrah for the Register!' "

I wonder why.

A front page item said: "Mrs. Ed B. Webster and daughter, Miss Wilma Aileen, are visiting in Salem."

A marriage license was issued to George Wilkinson, Dorrisville, and Mary Reynolds, Rudement. I leave out the ages on purpose.

But we'll leave the age in the following:

"Squire J. W. Grigsby was 36 years old today. He accidentally let some of his friends know about it. They invaded his office during the afternoon and while several held him, John Clark administered the usual punishment—36 blows. You see, they took unfair advantage of the justice, but birthdays come only once a year."

* * *

On the back page is: "Dr. A. E. Booth of the First Baptist church has been asked to speak twice and to hold a conference at the Statewide Sunday School Convention of Alabama which meets at Birmingham July 28-29. He is asked to tell of the work of the great Sunday school class which he teaches. He will accept the invitation and also will speak the same week at the Southern Illinois Chautauqua on the same subject."

There's an ad on an inside page which will recall to many that they used to make cigars here in Harrisburg. The ad:

"No. 87 Cigar. Feels Good — None Better. Made in Harrisburg. All Dealers 5 cents. Union Made—Select Tobacco. E. M. Miller, Manufacturer, 516 West Poplar Street."

* * *

It rained back then, too. There's an item that said the regular band concert was held and that it was a fine one despite the rain.

"Many people thought the rain would keep the musicians from giving the program, but it didn't," the item stated.

And there's a filler which said: "No farmer has much time to devote to his artistic temperament."

* * *

The masthead of the paper carried the following: J. J. Pickett, president; J. W. Richardson, vice president; J. E. Mulkey, secretary-treasurer; and G. M. Oehm, city editor.

And in case you're interested, the newsprint was so dried out in this old paper that it has fallen apart as I've gone through it. It's a mess.

Archbishop Denies Church Pressure On Princess Margaret

LONDON (UP) — The archbishop of Canterbury told a nationwide television audience Wednesday night that the Church of England did not put any pressure on Princess Margaret and her decision not to marry Peter Townsend was entirely her own.

It was Dr. Geoffrey Fisher's first public comment on Margaret's decision and his answer to criticism that the church had pressured the princess into choosing duty over love.

"Her decision was made purely on the grounds of conscience," the head of the Church of England said. "She was seeking God's will and when she found's God's will she made her decision."

Says He Used Hypnotism to Get $135,000

Claims He Tried To Force Her to Kill Own Daughter

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (UP) — A wealthy San Antonio woman, who declared her husband of two months hypnotized her out of $135,000, said she killed him on a lonely island when he tried to force her to kill her own daughter.

The woman, Mrs. Sunny Canales Worden, told Texas Rangers that her husband ordered her to dig a shallow grave and then handed her a diamond-studded pistol and said:

"Go ahead and shoot the kid. Then I know you'll blow your own brains out if you do."

The little girl, Maria Teresa Canales, 5, screamed and tried to run away, Mrs. Worden related.

When her husband, Don Worden, a San Antonio real estate man, turned toward the girl, Mrs. Worden said she shot him in the chest with the .22-caliber pistol.

The killing took place Oct. 22, but wasn't disclosed until Wednesday when Mrs. Worden made a full statement to Texas Rangers in San Antonio. The body of her 45-year-old husband was found last Saturday when it washed ashore near Corpus Christi, but wasn't immediately identified.

Mrs. Worden told authorities that she decided last Sunday to make a full statement on the killing, but spent two days trying to contact a ranger in San Antonio.

The 42-year-old brunette told officers that her husband used hypnotism to get $90,000 cash, a $45,000 San Antonio home, and jewelry from her.

She was divorced from Prexides Canales, a wealthy Premont, Tex., oil man last Aug. 3. She met Worden, a San Antonio real estate man, when she and Canales were looking for a house in San Antonio.

Mrs. Worden was quoted by officers as saying that Worden recently took out insurance policies on her children — she had three during her marriage to Canales — with himself listed as beneficiary. She also told officers, they said, that Worden forced her to change her will in his favor.

Peace Prize to Refugee Group

OSLO, Norway (UP)—The 1954 Nobel peace prize—held over from last year—was awarded today to an organization instead of a man. It went to the office of the United Nations high commissioner for refugees.

The 1955 Nobel peace prize was reserved for award next year.

Thus the Norwegian Storting (parliament) which awards the coveted prize failed for the second straight year to agree on a man from a long list including such names as Sir Winston Churchill, Harry S. Truman, Pierre Mendes-France, Sir Anthony Eden and Jawaharlal Nehru.

The United Nations high commissioners office for refugees receives a cash prize of $35,067.

The 1955 prize now transferred to next year is $36,720.

The prize money will help the organization carry out the four-year plan for refugees recently adopted by the United Nations.

Little Old Lady Is Well Heeled

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. (U.P.)—A little old lady received treatment for a sore leg at Meadowbrook Hospital Wednesday night and was asked if she could pay the $1.50 fee.

"Hand me my suitcase," she directed a nurse.

The little old lady opened the bag, peeled $2 from a $63,000 roll, accepted 50 cents in change and departed.

Hospital authorities withheld her name.

Mother Calls Off Search for Son

DYERSBURG, Tenn. (UP)—An embarrassed mother called off a search in a wooded ravine for her 17-month-old son by police, firemen and volunteers.

Mrs. E. L. Moody suddenly remembered she left her son Charles at a barbershop to get a haircut.

Miss O'Keefe is a junior at the university.

Police Discount Confession in Triple Slaying

CHICAGO (UP) — Police today discounted the triple slaying "confession" of a 30-year-old truck driver who was so nervous he couldn't even take a lie detector test.

Ed Kline, who was picked up in an abandoned Wisconsin farm house, admitted the murders of Robert Peterson, 13, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11, police said.

But Sgt. Michael Spiotto, temporarily heading the investigation, said police regarded the "confession" as the worthless "rambling of a mental case."

He could give no concrete account of how the murders were committed, investigators reported.

Kline was so nervous and upset that he was unfit for a lie detector test, Spiotto said, and he once gave 15 different answers to the same question. When police caught him up in discrepancies, Kline would explain "I'm just nervous."

Although Kline's disjointed statement late Wednesday was shrugged off, Spiotto said, "We intend to pursue every angle he discusses with us."

Kline and 19-year-old Charles Driscoll, who was also picked up in the Ladysmith, Wis., farm house, were held on disorderly conduct charges. However, a lie test had already cleared Driscoll of any connection with the murders, police said.

Doctor Shoots It Out With Gunmen; One Dead

CHICAGO (UP)—A pistol-toting, 70-year-old doctor shot it out with two gunmen in his offices late Wednesday and killed one of them.

Dr. Blaine L. Ramsay told police he believes he also winged the other would-be holdup man.

The bandits forced their way into Ramsay's home just as two nurses were locking up for the night. With drawn guns, they ordered the nurses to "get upstairs."

One of the nurses screamed as she retreated up the steps and Ramsay came running from his first-floor living quarters, pulling a snub-nosed pistol from his pocket.

Both gunmen fired at the doctor and missed. Ramsay then blazed away, hitting one of the men in the head and hand. As the first gunman fell, Ramsay pursued the second and fired two more shots before the bandit fled in a car.

The slain man was identified as Daniel Stephanoff, 33, an ex-convict from Peoria, Ill.

Ramsay told police he had carried a gun since he was held up a year ago.

U. S. Believed Ready to Shelve German Unity

Deadlock on Free Elections Threatens Progress of Talks

GENEVA (UP) — The United States was believed ready today to accept shelving of German unity until at least next year.

The same old deadlock over free elections to unify the two halves of Germany threatened further progress at the present Big Four foreign ministers' conference.

As a result, the United States and its Western partners, Britain and France, were considering a new Big Four meeting with Russia next year to try again to break the deadlock over Germany and European security.

Reporters covering the present conference have been encouraged to take the optimistic view that enough progress is being made at the current parley to warrant hopes that detail work on the twin problems can be left to a committee of experts.

Authoritative sources said the remaining differences then could be tackled by a new foreign ministers' meeting some time next year.

Dulles Is Optimistic

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay told Russia's V. M. Molotov Wednesday that a settlement of East-West differences was possible if he made concessions on Germany as he had done on security.

However, Dulles, MacMillan and Pinay flatly refused to conclude a European security treaty at this time until there is agreement to unify Germany.

The three Western ministers met in another preliminary strategy session before the sixth plenary session met.

At that preliminary meeting, the West decided that Russia's "loaded" plan for Germany was "unacceptable" and "hopeless."

Hit Producing Oil Well in Wabash River

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Indiana's own "tidelands" oil drilling venture in the Wabash River has struck a producing well on the first attempt, State Conservation Director Harley Hook said today.

The well was brought in by the Lynch Co. of Evansville and Mount Vernon, under contract with the state, at a depth of 1,100 feet beneath the river in Posey County.

The company will pay the state 20 per cent of gross receipts on oil sales from its river wells. The firm has about 100 other sites located along the river where it plans to conduct test drilling.

Hook said he could not estimate what the state's share of the oil operations would be. However, he said it was estimated the state already has lost at least 11 million dollars by not taking advantage of its river "rights."

The state's "rights" to oil under the river has been challenged in court suits brought by three major oil companies which seek to restrain the state from engaging in oil production.

Historical Society to Place County Markers, Seek Building for Museum

The Saline County Historical society met in the club room of the public library for the regular November meeting Tuesday night.

A report of the Marker committee was made by James Bond. Markers will be placed at the intersection of the Shawneetown-Kaskaskia and Goshen Trails; at the grave of John Rector; and at Galatia, the center of the tobacco industry in Saline county. Locations for three more markers will be selected soon and they too will be placed in the county.

A committee composed of Brose Phillips, John Foster, and William Farley was appointed by the president, to see about securing a building to be used as a museum.

John W. Allen was presented by Program Chairman Ray Durham. Mr. Allen began his talk by telling of the State meeting at Galena. He stated that Galena is a town that time forgot. It was built on several hills which are reached from street level by numerous steps. The once important Fever river, now only a small stream, and the early lead mines led to the founding of the town. The old buildings, the high hills, the old fort, the Grant residence and the residences of other famous generals make the town immensely interesting to the historian. The old churches, dwellings, and hotels which have been in use for decades give it a unique place among the towns of the state.

Mr. Allen reminded his listeners of the story of the Acre of Diamonds. Many in our county wander afar to see and study the history of other regions while all the time the Acre of Diamonds is at our feet. He quoted:

"A land without ruins is a land without memories
A land without memories is a land without history.
Give me a land where ruins are spread
Where the living tread light see the hearts of the dead.
Give me a land of legends and lays
That tell of the stories of long vanished days."

He then took the assembly on a tour of the county advising them to tread lightly and see the hearts of the dead. He mentioned Douglas, Rector, Dr. Mitchell, the Burnetts, the Woolcotts and others who have helped make our county's history. He told of the Regulators and Vigilantes, the Goshen Road, the mining, the milling, the tobacco, the cotton, and the caster bean industries. He asked if the members knew of the adding machine invented by a Harrisburg man; if they knew that the first teacher's union ever established was in Saline county; and if they knew of the Tall Tales Club? Mr. Allen encouraged the society to help preserve the story of the old forts, the old roads, the milling industry, and the old stories and legends for future generations.

Thirty-five members and guests enjoyed the social hour after the program. Mrs. Naomi Loos, Mrs. Lois Gates, Mrs. Clara Louise Pittman, and Mrs. Nelle Meyers were in charge.

Brothers Gamble Lives on Drinking Capacity and Lose

MANILA (UP)—Two brothers gambled their lives on their drinking capacity and lost, police reported today.

Authorities said the brothers, Velacio and Ciriaco Aure, aged 24 and 20, used a drinking contest to settle a long-standing feud with Nicasio Hernandez.

The first to pass out would be killed. After several rounds of rum, Velacio and Ciriaco dropped.

Hernandez shot one and stabbed the other.

First Snow Hits Midwest Areas; Mercury to Fall

By United Press

Snow made its seasonal debut in much of the Midwest today and temperatures nosedived in acknowledgement.

The snow, born on a blast of cold Canadian air, stretched as far south as Missouri and southern Illinois. Early today, the cold front was carrying it east into Michigan.

Up to three inches of snow fell on the Chicago area while the temperature dropped 13 degrees in six hours. The weight of the wet, sticky snow snapped power lines and broke off tree limbs in the city's outlying sections.

Seven traffic deaths occurred in 10 hours in Chicago and suburbs. Three of the victims were pedestrians struck by vehicles. Police said it was one of the highest tolls ever recorded in such a short period.

It was the first "real snowfall" of the year for a vast area and children turned out in droves to make snowmen and pelt each other with snowballs.

A freezing northwest wind came in the snow's wake, threatening to turn the slush into ice. Warnings of poor visibility and ice-slicked highways were issued for parts of the Midwest.

The U. S. Weather Bureau also warned that the mercury would keep falling in the Midwest, reaching a level close to cold wave proportions by tonight. By Friday, the icy front will be chilling eastern states, the forecasters said.

Meanwhile, rain stretched from the central Gulf Coast up the Mississippi Valley and a new storm poured torrents on the Pacific Northwest.

Godfrey Fires Housekeeper Questioned About Marital Troubles of Woodwards

NEW YORK (UP) — Arthur Godfrey fired his housekeeper, Mrs. Ingeborg Sorensen, after police questioned her about the marital life of her former employers, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Woodward Jr., it was disclosed today.

Mrs. Sorensen said the radio TV star gave the firing assignment to a secretary who told her: "Mr. Godfrey has made other arrangements." The college - bred domestic said she was "stunned" when she got her walking papers Wednesday.

Nassau County Chief of Detectives Stuyvestant Pinnell questioned Mrs. Sorensen Monday about marital difficulties between the Woodwards. Mrs. Woodward killed her socially prominent husband with a shotgun blast Sunday, because she thought he was a prowler.

Mrs. Sorensen said she resigned as cook-housekeeper at the Woodward's Oyster Bay, N. Y., home three weeks ago after working for them for several months. She said she was hired by Godfrey a week ago to care for his East Side penthouse apartment.

Godfrey, who is currently costarring with his Palomino horse "Goldie" at the National Horse Show here in addition to his network chores, has fired 21 members of his entertainment "family" and his production staff in the past two years. Mrs. Sorensen made 22 if the "family" category can be said to include servants.

Mitchell Says Benson May Be Eisenhower Choice

DIXON, Ill. (U.P.) — Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, said Wednesday night that Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson may be President Eisenhower's choice to succeed him in the White House.

"Mr. Benson has just as much power as though he were President and he may even be Eisenhower's favorite for 1956," Mitchell said in a speech.

"Right now, it is clear that he is high in the President's favor," Mitchell added.

Mitchell quoted Mr. Eisenhower as saying last week that "he backed Benson absolutely." In the meantime, Mitchell charged, farmers are caught in a "frightful squeeze between high costs and lower income."

He also charged that the Illinois toll road program backed by Republican Gov. William G. Stratton will eventually cost motorists the equivalent of an extra 22 1-2 cents per gallon of gas.

Interest and financing charges, Mitchell said, will bring the total cost of the toll road program to more than 800 million dollars, instead of the 415-million-dollar figure used by the state administration.

GOP Expects Ike Decision By February

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—An increasing number of Republican bigwigs are expecting President Eisenhower to announce by early February whether he will run again.

And some of his stalwart supporters hope he will name his choice as a successor if he decides to retire.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland, a potential candidate if Mr. Eisenhower doesn't run, recently called for an announcement by the President by early February, the deadline for filing in the New Hampshire presidential primary.

Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-NJ) opposed exerting any "unnecessary pressures" on Mr. Eisenhower. Case said the President "should delay any personal political decision until after his heart has had a good chance to heal."

Attending physicians have indicated they probably would know by February whether Mr. Eisenhower's heart would heal sufficiently for him to run again, if he wants to.

On the Democratic political front, Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) voiced support at Stonewall, Tex., for Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson if he should become a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Johnson disclaimed any such aspirations.

At Portland, Maine, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler charged that Republicans control the nation's newspapers and other information media. He acknowledged he has a personal choice as the Democratic presidential nominee but would not name him.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La) predicted here that next year the South will be solid again in support of the Democratic presidential nominee, regardless of who he is. Long also told a reporter he expects the 1956 Democratic National Convention to be harmonious and not marred by any North-South fight such as rocked the party's 1948 and 1952 conventions.

Local Post Office Distribution Point For Christmas Mail

Twenty - one postmasters from Harrisburg and small communities in the area southeast of this city met in Harrisburg Tuesday evening to hear a discussion on handling Christmas mail. D. M. Magee, district postal manager from St. Louis, explained the program.

The Harrisburg post office has been designated as a distribution point Postmaster A. M. Hetherington stated today and will tie out mail for twenty small post offices.

The plan is being put in effect to relieve the congestion of mail on railroad cars and in terminals.

When the smaller offices do not have sufficient mail to tie into bundles for dispatch, the small number will be sent to Harrisburg to be tied up with mail from the other post offices in the area.

Plans have been completed to use the showroom of the Cummins building by the Harrisburg post office and all dispatching of mail during the Christmas season will be from there. This will relieve the crowded conditions in the regular dispatch room, allowing the local mail carriers sufficient room to work out their mail.

Biggest Fight Rages Since Palestine War

Israeli Army Launches Attack in Demilitarized Zone

TEL AVIV, Israel (UP) — The biggest battle since the end of the Palestine War raged along the Israeli-Egyptian frontier in the Sinai Desert today.

The fight started when the Israeli army launched a major attack to drive Egyptian forces from the El Auja demilitarized zone.

In Cairo, the government announced that Egyptian forces launched a counter-offensive in the El Auja sector this morning. Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, Egypt's minister of war and military commander-in-chief, flew to the front to take command of operations.

The Cairo announcement said savage fighting broke out along most of the border on a 30-mile front from Gaza to El Auja.

An official communique issued in Cairo this afternoon said the battle still was raging at El Sabha. It said the Israelis had thrown 3,000 men into the attack on the Egyptian garrison, which it said numbered 100 men.

"The enemy succeeded in occupying at dawn part of the Egyptian positions but our forces are still holding the rest, where the battle is still going on, the communique said.

An Israeli communique issued early in the battle said 50 Egyptians were killed and 40 captured. It admitted four Israeli dead and 19 wounded.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman said the action resulted in the expulsion of "an Egyptian invading force."

"There are no more Egyptian troops left in Israel," he said.

A Cairo spokesman said the Israeli task force in the attack numbered some 400 men. He said Egyptian forces in the initial action by moonlight were outnumbered "nearly four to one." He said the Israeli troops were backed by armored cars and field guns.

Other Cairo sources admitted to 50 Egyptian dead and 40 captured. A military spokesman said the figures showed the "tenacity of the Egyptian garrison in the face of the surprise attack."

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said:

"This development is extremely regrettable, especially coming after the appeal by Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the U. N. commissioner, to both sides to cease all aggressive actions."

Israeli spokesmen here and in the Israeli sector of Jerusalem said the attack was launched to eliminate an encroachment by Egyptian troops on Israeli soil.

The Israeli target was the sand-swept, stone-and-brick El Auja police station, 50 miles south of Gaza and less than 10 miles from the old Palestine - Egyptian Sinai border.

A 100-mile-square strip in the area was demilitarized by the 1949 Israeli-Egyptian armistice.

Israeli military spokesman Maj. Dan Gov said the Egyptian force which infiltrated in the Nitzana area near El Auja was part of a regular Egyptian infantry battalion.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said the Egyptian post brought under attack was supported by fire from other Egyptian posts just across the border on Egyptian soil.

"In order to accomplish its task of expelling the Egyptian invader, it was necessary to silence these posts," the spokesman said.

Times Have Changed

Editorial — By BRUCE BIOSSAT

Again and again in the buzzing speculation over 1956 presidential prospects one hears the comment that the Republicans must be sure to choose a man not only of recognizable stature but of considerable national renown.

The comment implies there is little hope for a party that plans to go to the polls with a candidate who at this stage, slightly more than a year from voting day, is not already a well-publicized figure.

But, in the light of present-day television, a steadily expanding medium, this kind of thinking would appear to be somewhat old-fashioned.

In 1952 Adlai Stevenson did not begin to acquire truly national status in the public eye until after former President Truman made it known at the end of March that he himself would not run. The nomination build-up for Stevenson was limited to three and a half months. He had another three and a half to make his appeal to the full electorate.

By old standards seven months doesn't seem very long, but it was enough time to permit Stevenson to corral 27,314,000 votes, only about 160,000 less than the previous national record set by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936.

In 1950 a little-known Democratic functionary, Vincent Impellitteri, who succeeded to the mayor's chair in New York City upon William O'Dwyer's resignation, was dumped by his party and decided on an independent race. He had virtually no organization. In fact he had nothing but underdog sympathy—and television. He won comfortably.

If you would examine further the impact of TV, consider Senator Kefauver of Tennessee. The televised crime investigation hearings he conducted in 1949 and 1950 made his face and name familiar in millions of households. With that plus a mere scattering of party friends here and there, Kefauver in 1952 won 13 of the 15 presidential primaries he entered.

There isn't much doubt that with TV a man today can be made nationally familiar in swift order. As a matter of fact, back in 1940 even before the advent of television, Wendell Willkie was brought to great public notice in a few short months and banged across as the GOP nominee. He went on to hang up what was then a record Republican vote.

To the citizen looking on, it would appear that the Republicans, and the Democrats as well, don't really have much to worry about on this score. The voters probably would be happier if the parties concentrated on getting qualified men and let the build-up take its natural course.

Sherman Adams is Solid, Devoted Chief of Staff

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When President Eisenhower decided to select a man to run the White House staff he knew exactly what qualities were needed for the job.

Ike learned about being a good chief of staff from General MacArthur when they were together in the Philippines from 1935 to 1940.

Ike knew his staff chief must understand top-level politics but, when necessary, be able to play petty politics. He must be diplomatic and curt at the proper times. He must be an intelligent, tireless worker. He must be sensitive enough to understand the boss' philosophy and moods yet have a tough enough hide to withstand personal criticism because no one loves a chief of staff.

Above all he must be so obviously loyal that the boss never has to fear for a moment that his best interests aren't being served.

During the difficult months of his camaign Ike recognized all of these qualities in Sherman Adams, the lean, frosty efficient governor of New Hampshire, who quickly established himself as the key staff man of the Eisenhower entourage.

SINCE ADAMS HAS BEEN Ike's presidential assistant he has completely justified the President's early opinion of him. And the smooth, efficient way Adams has taken over in Denver since Ike's attack is further proof of his value in the job.

Not in recent history has a President created such a job as White House chief of staff for the handling, sorting and direction of the Chief Executive's chores. It's a military management device which has shown its advantages in the present crisis.

As was inevitable in his unique job Adams has made enemies in the Republican party and has been the target of Democratic criticism. His foes claim he made himself a kind of White House dictator before Ike's attack and that there is danger in the tremendous power he now wields.

But no one has ever charged Adams with disloyalty to the President. And therein lies Adams' basic claim to his present great authority.

THE COOL, DEFT HANDING of the whole, explosive McCarthy affair by Ike was in large part based on help and advice from Adams. Yet when it was felt necessary to slap down Harry P. Cain, a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, for his criticism of Uncle Sam's security program, Adams did it promptly and in blistering terms.

Most of the reports on Adams feature his cold, curt handling of people generally. And he's obviously not the fun-loving, jovial type who enjoys meeting peole.

But he has done an adroit, diplomatic job of keeping harmony among members of the White House staff, assigning jobs and keeping the work flowing smoothly.

This has required working closely with such individualistic, outstanding personalities as movie actor Robert Montgomery, who has coached Ike's TV performances, former Senator from Nebraska Fred Seaton and harassed press Secretary Jim Hagerty.

WITH A PERSONAL DISTASTE for some of the sordid details of politics such as handing out patronage Ike has turned almost all of this traditionally important function of the Presidency over to Adams. In the handling of it Adams has hurt plenty of feelings.

But insiders say he has done a good, diplomatic job nevertheless. It turned out that there weren't nearly as many political plums to pass out as the GOP expected before the election.

Adams has been most ruthless and undiplomatic in brushing off those congressmen, politicians and others whom he has not felt were of immediate, significant importance to the President.

But in doing this Adams has unselfishly cut his own throat politically, as far as any ambitions he might have had in this way for the future.

A further demonstration of unselfish devotion is his heavy work schedule. He has always been the first to arrive in the morning and the last to leave. Working weekends is standard routine for him.

Eisenhower Traffic Group Promotes Second Annual Safe Driving Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—Traffic accidents are killing 36,000 Americans a year.

Of 1,250,000 merely injured, 100,000 are disabled for the rest of their lives.

Last year traffic accidents cost U. S. citizens $4,400,000,000 in medical and burial bills and property loss.

From the turn of the century through 1951, cars and trucks killed 1,000,000 persons. At present rates it will take only another 25 years to add another 1,000,000 dead.

And by 2000 A. D. the accumulated toll for the first 100 years of the motor vehicle in America could hit:

More than 3,000,000 killed, more than 105,000,000 hurt, and some 10,500,000 permanently injured.

Accidents Can Be Reduced

But does anybody care?

Public apathy toward the ceaseless carnage on the nation's roads and streets is, authorities say, suffocatingly profound.

Of course, there are many who do care—the bereaved, the injured, the Automotive Safety Foundation, the American Automobile Assn., civic groups and schools, and hosts of city, state, and federal officials, not to mention the auto and insurance industries.

And President Eisenhower cares deeply. Last year he greatly expanded the size and program of the White House Conference on Highway Safety, established in 1946, and called eloquently for reduction of the slaughter.

This year, the President's committee for Traffic Safety is promoting the country's second annual safe driving day — SSD — Thursday, Dec. 1.

SSD's purpose: To demonstrate that "traffic accidents can be greatly reduced when motorists and pedestrians fulfill their moral and civic responsibility for safety."

Its challenge: "Not a single traffic accident during the 24-hour period—in daylight or darkness."

The hope: To show Americans that "if they can greatly reduce the accidents for one day, they can do it every day of the year."

W. L. Robinson, associate director of the AAA's traffic engineering and safety department, said the cause of traffic accidents "boils down to inattention and poor judgment."

A normally safe driver goofs off. Another gets sore at a slowpoke. A guy who never did it before takes a chance because he is a couple minutes late for dinner. A pedestrian who knows better jaywalks across the street in the middle of the block.

What Can Be Done

What can be done to cut down the slaughter on the nation's streets and highways?

The three E's might help. They stand for Education, Engineering, Enforcement.

R. W. Tupper of the AAA believes "the great promise of the future" lies in the driver-education program in high schools.

A survey showed that drivers who received high school training had only half as many accidents as those who didn't.

The school patrol system is credited with saving many lives.

Tupper also believes that replacement of hazardous roads with express highways, coupled with limits on speed and effective enforcement, will greatly improve the safety record.

Getting the accident-prone off the highways through tougher licensing and inspection and more ruthless enforcement of the moral vital rules—such as those against drunk driving—also could help.

Fighting for Victory

Petestrians could improve their chances at night by wearing something white to make them more visible to motorists. And by abandoning jay-walking.

Auto engineers have done a lot for safety with better lights, better brakes, better steering, improved shock absorption, safety glass and safety belts.

Is there any hope of even partial victory in this war against what has been called "highway homicide" and "mobile murder?"

Presumably it will not end as long as human and mechanical fallibility and occasional bad luck persist.

But the President's Committee for Highway Safety and a dedicated host of others are in there fighting. They consider every life saved to be a precious victory.

REVIVAL TO BEGIN

A revival will begin at the Galatia Methodist church where Rev. Roy Hudson is pastor, Monday, Nov. 7, and continue through Nov. 14. Rev. Maurice Winn, district superintendent, will be the evangelist. All offerings will go to a special mission in Mexico.

McCarthy Asks Probe of NLRB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy demanded today an immediate investigation of the National Labor Relations Board. He said he has "facts which, if true," indicate that the NLRB harbors a Communist cell.

The Wisconsin Republican said his own investigation indicates that the labor board is "literally honeycombed with individuals identified either as members of the Communist Party, or as having had years of constant and close association with known and/or suspected Communists and Soviet agents."

The two Democratic members of the board are Abe Murdock, former Democratic senator from Utah, and Ivar Peterson, former administrative assistant to Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.). Peterson identifies himself as an independent.

Peterson said he had not seen McCarthy's letter and declined comment. Murdock said in Utah he would have "no comment on that kind of tripe." An NLRB spokesman also declined comment.

McCarthy did not disclose his evidence concerning the board member to whom he was referring but said it was "alarming" enough to justify investigation. He said the case was submitted to the White House but that Mr. Truman took the entire file with him into retirement at Independence, Mo.

To Auction Luxury Furnishings of Ex-Scrubwoman

CHICAGO (UP)—A onetime scrubwoman's luxurious furnishings, including a bedroom set once owned by Lana Turner, will go on the auction block.

Judge Robert J. Dunne ruled Wednesday that the furniture and antiques owned by the late Mrs. Mary W. Newby must be sold at auction within 60 days.

Mrs. Newby, who died last July at the age of 62, parlayed her savings as a scrubwoman into a brisk South Side real estate business.

Her specialty was buying old mansions and turning them into apartment houses.

Her final estate was valued at more than $150,000. Lawyers said it included rare clocks, statuary, English china and silver, and a Chinese teakwood bedroom set once owned by actress Lana Turner.

Mrs. Newby's 13 nieces and nephews contested her will, which left all her estate to Robert Newby, a former janitor she married in 1954. Under a settlement, Newby agreed to take 35 per cent of the estate and an air-conditioned Cadillac.

COLOR IS KEYNOTE IN OLDSMOBILE SUPER "88"—Pacesetter of four-door hardtops, pioneered by Oldsmobile last year, the Super "88" Holiday sedan presents further advanced styling in its 1956 version. Dispensing with the center pillar, this model introduces a new concept of two-tone styling. Color separation is maintained by the new chrome side moulding that sweeps from the rear to the front fender opening. Front and rear fender and hood contours are entirely new. "Holiday" identity is evident in chrome block letters on the front fender panels. The richly upholstered interior presents a wide variety of fabrics and color combinations. Under the hood is the "Rocket" T-350 engine, increased substantially to 240-h.p., and teamed with the new Jetaway Hydra-Matic transmission. The new Oldsmobiles are on display at the Humm Motor Co., local dealer.

Premier Faure Wins Fourth Confidence Vote

Staked Life of Gov't on Demand For New Elections

PARIS (UP) — Premier Edgar Faure won a decisive vote of confidence early today saving his own government and France's voice at the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers' conference.

The vote was 330 to 211, a solid 119-vote majority for the premier.

Although Faure did not seek their support, the Communists cast their 94 votes for the government.

Faure staked the life of his government on his demand for new elections next month to "get a new assembly and a stable government capable of the direct action France requires."

Pinay At Geneva

Had the premier lost, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay would have been reduced to the role of an observer at the Geneva conference.

It was Faure's fourth victory in votes of confidence in four weeks. He won at the price of throwing overboard a chance to reform France's unpopular election law and at the cost of an open break with former Premier Pierre Mendez-France, his long-time friend and fellow member of the Radical Socialist Party.

In winning today's vote, Faure cleared the way for new elections expected to be held Dec. 18. Originally, the assembly was scheduled to expire May 30.

Face Important Problems

Faure demanded early elections "because of the necessity of solving important problems without delay." He said this could not be done in the present divided National Assembly.

Faure said "grave and important decisions" must be made on reform in the nation's North African territories, structure of the French Union, constitutional changes to increase governmental stability, France's place in the United Nations and East-West relations.

Mendes - France, in a fiery speech, demanded reform in France's "immoral and unjust" election system, whereby parties can trade ballots after the votes are in, before any new elections were held.

New 1956 Oldsmobile Is Now On Display at Humm Motor Company

The new 1956 Oldsmobiles, with more power, smart Starfire styling and new smoothness and efficiency in an automatic transmission, are now on display at the Humm Motor company, local dealer.

The new Oldsmobiles couple the "Rocket" T-350 engine with Jetaway Hydra-Matic transmission to achieve new standards of performance and efficiency.

Especially eye-catching is the new Oldsmobile front end, with an airfoil type grille patterned after the experimental Starfire and Delta and recessed in an oval between the massive upper and lower bumper bars.

The new sweeping chrome side moulding provides the two-tone color separation in Oldsmobile's attractive Starfire styling.

From an engineering standpoint, horsepower is raised to 240 in the "Rocket" T-350 engine which powers the "98" and Super "88" cars. Compression ratio is 9.25 to 1 in all 1956 "Rocket" engines. The 1956 Series "88 Rocket" has a larger dual carburetor and develops 230-h. p.

Three series of cars in 13 body types are offered by Oldsmobile for 1956. There are four Fisher body types in the luxurious "98" series —four-door Holiday sedan, Holiday coupe, four-door sedan and Starfire convertible. The high performance Super "88" series presents the Holiday sedan, Holiday coupe, two-door sedan, convertible coupe and four-door sedan. In the budget-priced "88" series are the Holiday sedan, two-door sedan, four-door sedan and Holiday coupe.

Jetaway Hydra - Matic Drive, which is making its bow in 1956 Oldsmobile, will be standard equipment on the "98" series. Hydra-Matic Super Drive is optional at extra cost on the "88" series. The Jetaway Hydra-Matic introduces a new second fluid coupling in the drive train that blends the changes in gear ratios into a single continuous flow of power. As an added convenience, a parking lock operated with the shift lever is incorporated in the transmission.

Safety is a continuing consideration with Oldsmobile. Among safety features have been the all-steel body, four-wheel brakes, safety glass and the panoramic windshield for better vision.

In addition to the safety-padded instrument panel, available since 1953, and safety power steering and power brakes, first offered in 1952, Oldsmobile has other less apparent safety features. Among them are inter-lock safety door locks, introduced in 1955 to reduce the possibility of doors unlatching under impact, and the new "safety-aim" sealed beam headlights. These more powerful headlamps

Seat belts are being offered in 1956 as optional equipment.

Defense Dep't To Cut Payroll

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Defense Department expects to save 100 million dollars between now and July 1 by reducing its civilian pay rolls, a manpower official testified Wednesday.

Gus C. Lee, the department's director of manpower utilization, said about 23,000 civilians will be cut from defense payrolls between now and the end of December and 23,000 more will be cut in each of the two subsequent quarters.

He said the reduction was ordered by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson as part of a drive to save 500 million dollars the rest of this fiscal year.

Secretary of State's Office Wades Into Annual Numbers Game on Licenses

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The general application period for 1956 auto license plates opened this week, starting a numbers game that would blow every fuse in an electronic brain.

But the secretary of state's office philosophically waded into the job of answering every — well, almost every — special number request in the "traditional" spirit of good service.

William B. Westbrook, chief clerk of the auto department under Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier, said the office will again "try to comply with every special request" among the 3½ to 4 million made for 1956 motor vehicle license plates.

The 1956 license timetable actually began Oct. 1 when the office started taking applications for reassignment of numbers. Oct. 31 was the closing date for reassignment requests and about 280,000 persons, some 25,000 more than last year, asked for their old numbers.

But difficult as the reassignment job is, it's nothing compared to the special request problem.

Match Street Numbers

"Matching street and telephone numbers is the biggest mania," Westbrook said. "Others want birthdates, wedding dates, graduation dates, and dates they may consider most important in their lives, for example, the day they first went up in an airplane."

"Military personnel want their serial numbers. Some people want dates concerning historical figures or events or even the birthdates of television or movie heroes," he said. "They may ask for lower numbers or lucky numbers."

"Another typical request is 'to make sure you don't send me' any combination containing the number 13 or that adds up to 13. We've even had people send plates back for this reason," Westbrook said.

Not only does the office have to worry about requests for numbers they already have, but they have requests for numbers they don't even use yet. One applicant, thinking ahead, has asked for "3-000-000" although total auto license registration hasn't reached that mark yet. Another asked for "3-000-603."

Westbrook and a crew of volunteers have already started working nights. They've got hopper labeled for requests for "endings," "zero endings," "house numbers and phone numbers," etc.

All for Free

"But the one that really makes us throw up our hands," Westbrook said, "is the guy who writes in, 'I'd like this special number, but if you can't give it to me, please give me my old number back.' This fellow is really asking to eat his cake and keep it, too."

The secretary is required by a much-amended law that dates back to the beginning of license plates in Illinois in 1911 to give consideration to reassignment requests. But the effort to please special request applicants is strictly gratis.

The peak of application volume will not be reached until after Jan. 1, but the secretary's office would like people to apply now, during the "November lull." Each year sees a new record in motor vehicle license registrations and the peak in applications nears 50,000 a day by mail and over the counter sales.

Over the counter sales in the secretary's Springfield and Chicago offices will start Dec. 1 with the first plates going out in the mails Nov. 29 or Nov. 30.

Dulles May Discuss Farm Surplus Problem with Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may ask the Russians at Geneva whether mounting American farm surpluses can be disposed of behind the Iron Curtain.
Informed sources said Dulles plans to discuss the question of agricultural commodities at the current Big Four foreign ministers meeting.
Authorities here would not say exactly what Dulles would propose to the Russians. But it is known that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has been urging Dulles to help find some way to dispose of agricultural surpluses to Russia and her satellites.

Disappearance Of Boy Listed As Kidnaping

Widespread Hunt For Six Negroes; FBI to Enter Case

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. (UP) — Police listed officially today the disappearance of 3-year-old Stephen Damman as a kidnaping and intensified a widespread hunt for six Negroes — four women and two men.
More than 100 Nassau County detectives were assigned to the search after the child was abducted Monday while his mother shopped in a supermarket.
Entrance of the FBI into the search has been delayed because there is no evidence that the kidnapers have crossed interstate borders.
An FBI spokesman in New York said, however, that it will presume the boy has been taken from the state and will officially enter the case next Monday if he is not found.
The child's mother, Mrs. Marilyn Damman, 22, was reported to be near hysteria and was placed under medical care. His father, Air Force Sgt. Jerry Damman, 26, also broke down when informed of the evidence of the kidnaping.
Two unidentified women, who saw the abduction, were reported by police to have given "good descriptions" of the six.
Stephen, 2 years and 10 months old, was with his sister Pamela, 7 months, outside the store while their mother shopped. The witnesses said one of the Negro women stationed herself at the market entrance as if acting as a lookout while another woman wheeled the baby carriage with Pamela in it around a corner.
The carriage was found behind the store. Pamela, her harness disturbed, was found unharmed. Stephen was missing.
The witnesses, a woman about 55 and her daughter, said they thought the Negro group were domestics and that one of the group was probably employed in the childrens' home.

Arrests Head Off Youth Gang War in Peoria

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Police today investigated the formation of two rival youth gangs whose members were arrested as they prepared for a "gang war" armed with bats, chains and brass knuckles.
A total of 25 youths, from 15 to 25 years of age, were arrested Tuesday night as they got out of cars in a city park.
Authorities said the arrests headed off a gang war between two groups, one from the North Side and one from the South Side.
The arrested youths, several of whom had "duck tail" haircuts and tattoos of blood-dripping knives on their arms, were first charged with rioting.
Later the charges were changed to unlawful assembly and bond was set at $500 each.
Eighteen of the youths were released on bond.

Woman Faces Charges of Selling Her Twin Boys

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Miller Frederickson, 32-year-old Denver woman who Wednesday pleaded innocent to charges of selling her twin sons to a California couple, will be tried Jan. 11 for conducting what the district attorney called "a black market in babies."
Mrs. Frederickson reportedly gave her twin sons to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toler of Arcata, Calif., in exchange for payment of her $100 hospital bill and $50 in cash. She said she was not sorry she gave the children to the Tolers but would not give the twin boys away now if she still had them.
At Arcata, the Tolers said the two children, named James Sheridan and John Thomas, "are really worth fighting for . . . we'll put up any kind of battle to keep them."

Two Chanute Airmen Held on Federal Auto Theft Charges

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Two airmen AWOL from Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill., were turned over to the FBI and arraigned on federal auto theft charges Wednesday night.
Gerald Crocker Galvin, 17, San Francisco, and Donald Francis Guidry, 19, New Orleans, were arrested by Missouri Highway Patrol officers Tuesday after a bloody billfold was found in a car they were driving.
They said they had left Chanute without leave early in October in a borrowed car, later stealing an auto in New Orleans. They said they took the billfold from a man in New Orleans.
Federal officials were investigating their story.

Auto Somersaults Three Times, Couple Escapes with Bruises

Their car mounted a curb, crashed into an unoccupied car, turned over three times and ended up on its wheels in a parking lot accident Wednesday.

Salvation Army Appeal for Funds Concluded; Post Will Remain Here

The 1955 Salvation Army appeal for funds was formally concluded this week, with total cash contributions of over $4,300.00, assuring the retention of the local post for another year.

Drive Chairman John W. Biggers of Harrisburg announced that the cash collected to date is over $1,400 more than last year's drive, which was carried on over a period of several months. The campaign this year lasted from October 4-29.

Including the $740 of merchandise, the total stands at $5,050, Biggers reported. With pledges made by some of the Union locals, the cash total is expected to climb in a few days to $4,500. One group of coal mine employees has pledged $78.

Harrisburg's total of $3,143, compared with $2,900 last year, was collected as follows: the persons mentioned being chairmen of committees: $720, Advance Gifts, Jim Arensman; $998.85, Business, Wendell Bramlet; $225.46, Residential, John Slightom, Charles D. Taylor, and Mary Richardson; $211.50, Governmental, C. R. Gardner and Ross Lane; $269.05, Employees and Unions, Mark Burnam and Louie Stricklin; $353, Professional, Donald Hughes and Tom Davenport; $186, Organizations, Virginia Foster, Kathleen Skaggs, Quinn Stuby; $136, Schools, W. W. Chunn and John Schork; and $43.69, miscellaneous.

Largest amount collected by a residential worker was $26.00 by Mrs. Robert Rushing. Bob Gaskins, with $135, collected most in the business sections.

Campaign expenses totaled $107, including $45 for printing and stationery, and $62 for wages.

"Of course, we are happy to collect this amount, but the most gratifying part of our campaign is the fact that we will keep the local post, which is so important to our community," Chairman Biggers stated.

He remarked that over 1,000 civic-minded people have helped this drive by faithfulness in working and by generosity in their donations.

"Our gratitude is certainly owing to the members of the Salvation Army advisory board, the campaign chairmen and workers in Harrisburg, John Murphy and his workers in Eldorado, and Carl Alexander and his workers in Carrier Mills," Biggers said.

Eldorado and Carrier Mills together raised just under $1200.

Salavtion Army director, Lt. Andrew Sands, starting his first year in Harirsburg, stated, "The Salvation Army certainly appreciates the help contributed by the people of Saline county, and this generous spirit makes us proud to serve this community. We will do our best to carry out our program for the welfare of all deserving people."

Biggers listed the following contributions of $15 or more which have not been published before: Stain's tin shop, Sahara electric shops, $26; Progressive Miners Local No. 152, $25; Barnhill's Market, $15.

Outer Mongolia Key to Break In UN Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Outer Mongolia appeared today to be the key to a break in the East-West deadlock that has frozen admission of new members to the United Nations for the last five years.

The United States was said to be balking at the inclusion of the remote country of the Gobi Desert in a Canadian-sponsored package deal to admit 18 new members — including five Soviet satellites—to the world organization.

Washington was understood to be under heavy pressure from the predominantly Catholic countries to accept Outer Mongolia lest refusal to do so lead Russia to reject the deal which includes five countries with equal ties to the Roman Catholic Church—Spain, Italy, Ireland, Portugal and Austria.

Canada is working on a plan, not yet in resolution form, to have the General Assembly recommend admission of Western - backed Austria, Cambodia, Ceylon, Finland, Ireland, Italy, Jordan, Laos, Libya, Nepal and Portugal—and Japan and Spain, on which Western support is divided—together with Soviet - supported Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and outer Mongolia.

Best Buick yet

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

IT COMES upon the heels of the most successful Buick in history—and beats it on every score.

In shimmering steel and solid sinew, it's Buick for 1956—and there's never been anything like it for pure automobile.

You get a good hint of what we mean when you take in the sweep-ahead styling of it—from the air-splitting prow of its V-front grille to the robust rake of its canted rear profile.

You get an even better hint when you open the doors and see the dazzle there—in the decorator fabrics and décors—in the jewel-like finish of the fittings—in the precisely shaped steering wheel and controls—in the rich new instrument panel with soft-padded top and glowing dials that detail your progress in changing colors.

But it's when you put this beauty to the city streets and the open highways that you learn the best of it.

Performance Without Parallel

A new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflow* goes airplanes one better—steps up your getaway in normal driving without flooring the pedal to switch the pitch. But when you need that extra surge, it's there, instantly—and in extra abundance.

The might of big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines in every Series brings new record high power to all Buicks—ROADMASTER, SUPER, CENTURY, and the bedrock-priced SPECIAL. Yet this is such high-compression power, such dynamic driving power, such completely usable power at the rear wheels—the whole rear end has been endowed with extra brawn and heft and solidity to handle it.

We could spread before you an acre of blueprints on the engineering gems that spark the spectacular performance and ride and handling and roadability of these great Buicks for 1956.

We could tell you about a new double-Y manifolding of the engine for more usable power. And about a brilliant new front-end geometry that adds a whole new "sense of direction" to the car's travel. And about massive new direct-action shock absorbers that move three times more oil to cushion your all-coil-spring ride that much more buoyantly.

But you can get the full and magnificent story right now, at our showroom, in a face-to-face meeting with the best Buicks yet—now on display, and setting a dazzling new pattern for 1956.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

SIU Cross Country Team Host to U. Of Chicago Saturday

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois University's cross country team will be host to the University of Chicago in a meet during the SIU Homecoming football game here Saturday afternoon.

Freshman Bernard Kabot, Waltonville speedster, is expected to pace the Southern harriers. Kabot in four meets this season has finished no less than second.

He was nosed out for first place by Larry Viseur of Illinois State Normal in a meet at Carbondale last week. Normal edged out Southern, 25-31.

Joe Betts, Vernon, finished third for Southern. Normal grabbed fourth, fifth, and sixth spots.

Expected to run for SIU Saturday are Kabot, Betts, Ron Helberg, Blue Island; Bob Kaczynski, Chicago; Howard Branch, Mounds; Sam DeNeal, Harrisburg; and Larry Havens, Carbondale.

Saturday's meet will be run over a 3 3/4 mile course.

Southern closes its cross country season with the I. I. A. C. meet at Ypsilanti, Mich., Nov. 12.

President in Full Charge of Gov't, Mitchell Says

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower is taking "full charge" of the government now, Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell, reported, although the Chief Executive's return to a daily working schedule at the White House may be some months away.

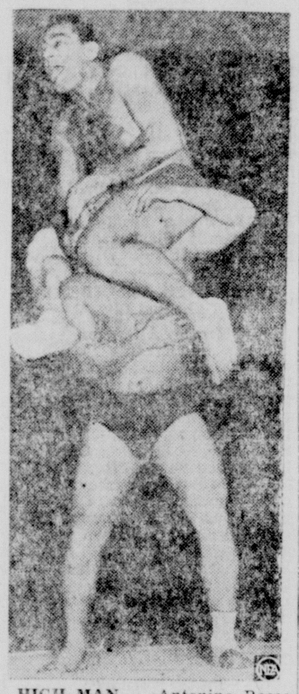

Mitchell saw the President late Wednesday and was asked, "did you discuss with the President when he might be taking full charge of the government again — when he might be back on the job?"

Mitchell replied, "I would assume he is taking full charge now."

Not since the President suffered a heart attack Sept. 24 has there been any serious question of his not being in legal command of the government, although much of his normal work and areas of decision had to be taken over by key members of his administration.

Eagles Play Marion Friday

Will Be Fourth South Seven Foe for Eldorado

This Friday night the Eldorado Eagles will meet their fourth South Seven conference foe—Marion. The game will be played on the Eldorado field.

In three previous football games against South Seven competition Eldorado has gained a deadlock —one victory, one loss and one tie. Thus Friday's game will mean a lot to Eldorado, one of the stronger non-league teams in the area, in its battle to keep ahead of the conference teams.

Marion, usually the South Seven doormat, is resting in sixth position at present and has been one of the surprise teams in this section during the grid season to date.

Marion started the season with its usual schedule-opening victory over Carterville, 40-0. Then continued according to past records and dropped decisions to Harrisburg and Benton.

Then the Marion Wildcats began to live up to their name. Marion scored an 18-13 victory over West Frankfort, in what was looked upon as one of the season's biggest upsets.

Although Marion has failed to win again, the Wildcats have played fine ball and demonstrated to other outfits that Marion is no longer to be considered a "breather" on the schedules.

Johnston City, with a veteran team, had to go all out to score a 32-26 victory over Marion and Mt. Vernon was forced to overcome a 12-0 deficit to win 14-12.

Marion to Be Up

Last week powerful Centralia scored a 33-0 victory and going into tomorrow night's game at Eldorado the Wildcats show a record of two wins and five losses.

And the Marion coach is quoted as having declared at the start of the season that he expected to win at least three games this season. The schedule is rapidly running out and Marion probably will be "up" for the game, planning to make Eldorado victim number three.

Eldorado, winner of three games in seven starts, with three losses and a tie to round out the record, will be just as anxious to rack up a victory before home folks.

The Eagles, with an all-senior starting lineup, have been something of a disappointment to followers this year, but a victory in the final two games of the year would be a big boost to all.

Following tomorrow's game with Marion, Eldorado will close out the schedule against Fairfield Nov. 11.

Coach Al Adams reports the Eldorado squad in good physical condition. Bob Potts, halfback, received a head injury last week at Cairo and complained of headaches through the evening, but hasn't missed a practice this week and apparently is ready to go.

Mrs. Woodward Placed Under Suicide Guard

NEW YORK (UP) — Detectives prepared today to question several society beauties whom Mrs. William C. Woodward Jr. suspected were competitors for the love of her slain sportsman husband.

Mrs. Ann Crowell Woodward, who killed the millionaire turfsman last Sunday with a shotgun blast, was placed under a round-the-clock suicide guard at Doctors Hospital while authorities moved to complete the case for grand jury action next week. The jury must decide whether or not the slaying was accidental as Mrs. Woodward reported.

Private detectives hired by the 39-year-old former radio soap opera heroine to spy on her 35-year-old banking heir husband gave the list of prominent society women to police who are gathering evidence on marital discord in the Woodward home.

Sports Figure Named

The list of names was reported to include that of the wife of a prominent New York sports figure. The private agents said they trailed Woodward for seven years without turning up anything deeper than friendship with the women named.

Nassau County District Attorney Frank Gulotta, who is in charge of the investigation also confirmed reports that Woodward hired detectives to keep tab on his wife's private life. He said reports on her activities were "all negative."

Gulotta already has questioned dozens of socialites, including the Duchess of Windsor, who attended a party with the Woodwards shortly before the slaying. Still to be questioned is Brenda Frazier Kelly, a leading pre-war debutante.

Galatia Team Loses Cross Country Runner

Galatia's cross country team has lost the services of one regular and will be weakened for the state meet this Saturday at the University of Illinois.

Don Wickham, who also plays basketball in addition to running, broke an ankle Monday afternoon during cage practice.

Wickham was Galatia's second finisher in the district meet at Herrin last Saturday as the team won second place district honors and qualified for the state meet.

HTHS Freshmen Lose 6-0 Tilt to West Frankfort

The Harrisburg freshman gridders dropped a 6 to 0 decision to the Frankfort frosh on a windy, cold and wet West Frankfort gridiron last night.

Frankfort scored within the first three minutes of the contest, taking the ball after the kickoff and moving down the field and over the goal line.

Harrisburg made two drives of approximately 60 yards that were halted near the goal line, one on an intercepted pass, the other on a fumble.

This contest ended HTHS freshman competition for the season. The Bull Pups, the freshman-sophomore team, will play at West Frankfort Nov. 7 and Benton here Nov. 12.

Bragan Named Field Manager Of the Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bad Boy Bobby Bragan, who purposely "reformed" last season while manager of the Hollywood Stars in anticipation of a promotion, found reward today as pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates for 1956.

"I promised myself early this year I would behave," Bragan said Wednesday following his appointment. "I went the entire season without being tossed — until the 172nd and final game.

"What happened? I made the remark, 'There isn't an umpire on the field.' But I guess there was. One of them heard me."

Bragan's choice completed the Pirates' version of the "Third Man Theme." When Branch Rickey Sr. stepped down last week as general manager, one of his boys, Joe L. Brown, took over. Brown insisted the Bragan appointment was his own, although Rickey was close to the scene as an "active advisor."

Bragan is "Brown Man"

"The selection of a new field manager has been made, not without considerable thought and advice, but it was my own selection," Brown said. "I have been called a Rickey man myself. I do not deny it. But the new manager is my man, a 'Brown Man'."

Bragan, also a disciple of Rickey, apparently filled the bill for Brown who said he wanted a "fighting, fired-up" leader to guide the Pirates out of the National league cellar for the first time in five years.

Bragan succeeds Fred Haney, who also came here after successful seasons at Hollywood only to be dropped on the last day of the 1955 season after a three-year term. The new manager's contract is for one year.

Talk of the League

Bragan's madcap outups were the talk of the Coast league during his first two seasons with Hollywood in 1953 and 1954. Most memorable of his onslaughts against umpire decisions were using eight pinch hitters for one batter, sending the bat boy to his third base coaching box after being ejected from a game, and doing a semi-strip tease in the dugout on another occasion.

The former Philadelphia and Brooklyn catcher said he would put himself behind the plate in any emergency here, but mainly would devote himself to managing the club and coaching third base. He played 72 games with the Stars last season.

Raid Touches Off Controversy by State Police, Sheriff

NAMEOKI, Ill. (AP) — A state police gambling raid today touched off a controversy today between Illinois troopers and Madison County Sheriff Kenneth T. Ogle.

State Police Chief Phil Brown charged Ogle failed to act against the Club Prevue here despite two gambling complaints he sent Ogle.

Brown said he personally ordered the state raid on the place Tuesday. A large quantity of gambling equipment was destroyed and the manager, Robert Dunne, was booked on a charge of possessing gambling equipment.

Ogle said he would bring the matter of the raid before the Illinois Sheriffs' Assn. as an instance in which state police exceeded their authority.

"It's up to local authorities to handle our own affairs in our own county," Ogle said.

Ogle denied Brown's statement that he gave Ogle a complaint last May. Ogle said the last complaint he got was 10 months ago, when he took part in a state police raid that netted nothing.

Scott Airman Killed In Auto Accident

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A Scott Air Force Base enlisted man from Hardin was killed early this morning when his car ran off Ill. 100 during a light rain and overturned.

Airman 3-C John E. Plummer, who was 19, was killed immediately when he and a passenger, Eugene Ufer, also of Hardin, were thrown from the car.

The accident occurred about 14 miles west of here.

Stevenson Pronounced In Perfect Health

CHICAGO (UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson has undergone his annual hospital checkup and is in "perfect" health, his doctor reported today.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, is expected to announce his 1956 presidential candidacy within the next two weeks.

Annual Parents' Night at Bull Dog-West Frankfort Tilt Friday

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs this week worked to give a good exhibition for Mom and Dad when they meet the West Frankfort Red Birds at Taylor Field Friday night.

The Harrisburg-Frankfort tilt is the annual Parents' Night started here several years ago. At this game seats for parents are reserved on the sidelines and the fathers and mothers—or a relative or friend who takes the place of a parent—are publicly recognized before the contest.

Comparative scores can mean little or mean something, and one way you look at them West Frankfort can give the locals an awful battle. Frankfort bowed but 7-6 to a Mt. Vernon team that last week downed strong Benton, 7 to 0.

Biggs on Varsity

Bull Dog Coach Lawrence Calufetti said yesterday that he plans to keep Donald Biggs up with the varsity the rest of the year. Biggs was brought up from the Bull Pup team when injuries took a toll of varsity halfbacks and the blond runner scored the lone touchdown made against Wood River here last Friday on a 16-yard jaunt.

In gaining Biggs, Calufetti lost Trevor Whiteside, who had just made the grade as a starting halfback. Biggs and Whiteside both started against Wood River and on the first play he carried the ball, Whiteside was hurt after a six-yard gain. First reports said he fractured his collarbone, but x-rays showed that he suffered a dislocation and that ligaments were pulled away in the area of the collarbone with severe swelling resulting. His injuries were serious enough that he turned in his suit for the season.

Need Win To Remain in Race

So apparently Biggs will be alternating with Fred McKenzie and Jack Wright at the halfback posts this week although McKenzie and Wright are not recovered from injuries suffered three weeks ago.

The line is rounding into form with Ronnie Williams at center, Jay Waite and Richard Hess at guards, Ken Price and Everett Evans at tackles, and Jim Williams and Bill Henshaw at ends. Williams probably will do all the punting because of Wright's knee injury.

Harrisburg must win from West Frankfort or let Herrin have the South Seven championship. The Red Birds will be the biggest team the locals have faced this year and the team has some fast backfield men.

There is only one other South Seven game this week-end — Centralia at Mt. Vernon. Marion goes to Eldorado and Herrin is host to Johnston City in non-conference games and Benton is idle.

Other Southern Illinois games this week-end: Du Quoin at Carbondale, Sparta at Pinckneyville, Metropolis at Chester, Murphysboro at Anna-Jonesboro, Christopher at McLeansboro and Bridgeport at Carmi.

Elsewhere in Illinois, Pana puts a seven-game unbeaten, untied streak on the line against Hillsboro's surprising Hilltoppers in a scrap that should settle the Midstate Conference race, and unbeaten Champaign tangles with Urbana in an effort to gain ground on Big 12 leader Decatur.

Elgin vs. Rockford West

Both Pana and Hillsboro boast 4-0 records in Midstate play and both have one game remaining after Friday's fray. But Pana has conquered seven straight foes, while Hillsboro came back after a season-opener loss to Mt. Olive to run up six straight wins.

Champaign, tied once in non-conference play, has a 3-0 record in the Big 12 compared with Decatur's 4-0 mark. Pulling even won't be easy for the Maroons, however, since Urbana's Tigers have lost only once this season, to Decatur.

Peoria Central, last year's Big 12 champion, and also holder of a 3-0 conference record this season, meets East Peoria in a non-league battle.

East St. Louis, tied once but owner of the state's longest unbeaten streak, collides with Granite City in the Southwest area.

Other games involving undefeated teams perfect record team listed first send Belleville's Maroons against Alton and De Kalb's high - scoring Barbs against Belvidere.

Yankees, Tigers Place 3 Each On All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The pennant winning Yankees and the fifth-place Tigers each placed three men today on the United Press American League All-Star team picked in a ballot of 56 baseball writers from each of the league cities.

The Yankees selected were catcher Yogi Berra, outfielder Mickey Mantle and pitcher Whitey Ford. Detroit placed outfielder Al Kaline, shortstop Harvey Kuenn and third baseman Ray Boone. Outfielder Ted Williams of the Red Sox, first baseman Mickey Vernon of the Senators, second baseman Nellie Fox of the White Sox and pitcher Early Wynn of the Indians drew the other four All-Star berths.

Berra led the voting, being named by 55 writers while Mantle and Fox were right behind with 54 votes apiece. Kaline had 52 votes, Kuenn received 52 votes, Williams 50, Ford 40, Boone 32, Vernon 27 and Wynn 19.

There were no 20-game winners in the American League but Ford, with an 18-7 mark and a 2.62 earned run average, had the best overall mark. Wynn was 17-11 and had a 2.82 earned run mark for Cleveland.

The closest battle in the balloting was for the second pitching spot and Wynn with his 19 votes barely shaded Billy Pierce of the White Sox and Frank Sullivan of the Red Sox with 18 apiece. Other pitchers to get votes were Tommy Byrne of New York 6, Ray Narleski of Cleveland 5, Bob Lemon of Cleveland 3, Herb Score of Cleveland 2, and Billy Hoeft of Detroit 1.

The new line of Buick cars for 1956, featuring a four-door hardtop in every series, more powerful V-8 engines, and fresh new styling in the bold design that has made Buick the third best seller in the nation for the last two years, will go on display Friday at the Tom Endicott Buick company, local dealer.

Horsepower has been increased to 255 in the Roadmaster, Super and Century series and to 220 in the Special. For the first time in 1956 the Special is equipped with the 322 cubic inch engine, the same power plant used in the other three series.

The new varible pitch Dynaflow transmission has been improved for 1956 through the addition of a second stator which increases torque multiplication and boosts performance importantly in the 0 to 30 mile range. Dynaflow has been made standard equipment on the Super and Century and optional on the Special. Previously it was standard on the Roadmaster only.

Dual exhausts are standard on the Roadmaster and optional on the other three series.

Style highlights include an all-new front end with a new V-shaped grille, a refinement of the rear end design which proved so popular last year, exquisite new interiors and a colorful new instrument panel that features the Redliner speedometer in each series.

Safety features include seat belts, available as dealer installed equipment on all models; door locks with an interlocking feature that prevents them from flying open in event of a collision; a foam rubber pad across the top of the instrument panel, and more effective brakes for faster stops.

Full rear wheel cutouts, which lend a sports car look to the Buick line, are featured on all models in 1956. Previously only the two-door models had the rear wheels fully exposed.

All models feature exquisite new interiors in many combinations of nylon and cordaveen and genuine leather. Also new for 1956 is the option of all-cordaveen interiors in the two-door hardtops in the Century and Special series.

A colorful new instrument panel, identical on all series, has been designed for 1956 with the Redliner speedometer standard on all models.

The new Buicks come in two wheelbases, 122 for the Special and Century, and 127 for the Roadmaster and Super, the same as last year.

Large Cities Partners of Industry in Multi-Million Dollar Fight Against Smog

By United Press

America's big cities have become partners of industry in a multi-million dollar battle against smog.

Practically every city with a heavy industrial concentration has its bureau of "air pollution control." The industries themselves, prodded by smoke-control ordinances and public opinion, are spending huge sums to sweeten their breath.

A United Press survey of air pollution control programs in 10 heavily industrialized areas indicates smog is being recognized as a problem that cannot be solved by passing an anti-smoke law or hoping for a change in the weather.

Instead, it is being pursued down scientific avenues and through public education programs designed to make everyone smog-conscious.

Smog And Industry

Air pollution exists to some extent wherever there is industry.

The more familiar term "smog" was coined to describe the condition when smoke and fumes and dust combine with a motionless and low-lying fog to form a choking and blinding envelope of air.

Some cities, by their geographic location, are more prone to smog than others. San Francisco seldom has smog due to a built-in blower system—prevailing westerly winds from the Pacific Ocean.

Los Angeles, on the other hand, sits in a basin that makes it especially vulnerable to "temperature inversions" in which a layer of warm air filled with smoke and fumes is held close to the earth by a layer of cold air on top.

The widest effect of smog is plain discomfort. The relation between polluted air and lung cancer is still being explored. Smog is dangerous for cardiac and asthma sufferers, 20 of whom died in the 1948 smog disaster at Donora, Pa.

Cities Lick Smog

Anti-smog campaigns have all but licked the smoke problems in Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

Pittsburgh began an all-out fight against smoke in 1941. The amount of heavy smoke in the city's skies is 98.7 per cent less than it was in 1946. Use of coal-burning furnaces and locomotives is strictly controlled.

Locomotives in St. Louis, second biggest rail center of the world, are forbidden to use coal. Furnaces may burn coal only when equipped with stokers. Such drastic provisions as these were enacted under a 1940 smoke control law that appears to have licked the air pollution problem here. Today even "mild smog" is rare.

Federal Judge Raps McCarthy in Dismissing Suit

BOSTON (AP) — A federal judge, with a rap at Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, Wednesday threw out four counts of a six-count indictment charging a former Harvard psychologist with contempt of Congress.

Judge Bailey Aldrich dismissed two counts against Leo J. Kamin, 27, and acquitted him on two others which charged Kamin failed to name Communists at Harvard at a hearing Jan. 14, 1954, before the Wisconsin Republican.

The judge accused McCarthy of going on a "fishing expedition" when McCarthy asked Kamin questions about anyone teaching at Harvard or connected with Harvard who were known by Kamin to be Communists.

Activities Begin Tonight for Carrier Mills' Third Homecoming

The third annual Carrier Mills Community high school homecoming will be held this week, with activities getting underway at 6 p. m. today and continuing through Friday night.

Opening activity on the two-day program is a bonfire, pep rally and snake dance this evening. The crowd will gather on the school athletic field for the bonfire and pep meeting and following the snake dance through the business section things will taper off until Friday afternoon.

At 2 p. m. Friday the homecoming parade is scheduled to start. Friday evening there will be basketball games featuring Carrier Mills and Rosiclare. Following the game will be the coronation of Homecoming Queen and the dance.

The homecoming queen will be one of four girls from the Senior class who were nominated for the honor — Carolyn Holmes, Beverly Parsons, Jackie Heaton or Carolyn Absher.

The three Senior girls not elected Queen will be members of the Royal Court. There will also be class attendants for the Coronation ceremonies. Attendants will be Beverly Parks, freshman; Dianne Lightfoot, sophomore; Janice Harrawood, junior.

The Homecoming Queen was elected Tuesday, Nov. 1, by a vote of the entire student body but her identity will not be made public until late Friday evening at the time of the coronation.

In addition to the school activities many class groups are planning dinners, parties, teas and other get togethers. An attempt has been made to invite all former students of CMCHS to return for the Homecoming and many have indicated they will be in "the old home town" this weekend.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

Democratic Field Thinning; Safe Driving Pays Off for Stratton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — The field of possibilities for Democrat nomination for Illinois Governor and U. S. Senator are thinning. Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett, Chicago, former popular secretary of state, took himself out for gubernatorial honors saying he would be a candidate for the office he holds, and State Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, mentioned for U. S. senator, has declared for a return to the state legislature.

Barrett's disclaimer for the governorship however, left the door slightly ajar. He said "unless there is a draft." Powell squelched reports he might run for U. S. senator with a statement saying he will seek reelection as state representative from the new 59th representative district composed of his home county — Johnson — and seven other far southern Illinois counties.

But no sooner had he announced his intention to abandon a U. S. senate seat than he was immediately endorsed for that office by the Springfield Illinois State Register which pointed out that Powell's statement of candidacy for the General Assembly does not close the door on a nomination for senator, governor or any other state office.

The withdrawal of Barrett for Governor and of Powell for the U. S. Senate are considered as improving the chances of Cook County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen, Chicago, for the gubernatorial nomination, and those of State Rep. Richard Stengel, Rock Island, and former U. S. Sen. Scott W. Lucas, Havana, for the senatorship. Stengel has some strong support with Chicago organization leaders.

Gov. William G. Stratton believes there's a good moral in the recent accident on U. S. 66, when in returning from a visit to state institutions in Kane county, his car barely escaped a serious collision with one being driven by three teen-age girls. The Governor said that because his car was being driven at only 45 miles an hour, possible injury or death to those involved was avoided.

The big limousine which the Governor uses on his official state travels was headed south, just beyond Atlanta on 66 when State Police Lieut. Leonard Wertz, Pontiac, saw a car ahead in the left lane flashing signals it was turning left onto a side road. At the same time he saw a car on the right of the road waiting for him to pass.

Suddenly the car on the left, still on 66, instead of turning left, turned right almost directly in front of Wertz just as he reached the intersection of the side road with 66. Wertz swung right with the car in front of him and escaped with a dent in his left fender. When the 16-year-old driver saw a state police lieutenant getting out of the Governor's car, she started to cry.

"Why," she said, "does everything have to happen to me." When she saw another man get out of the car, she asked "who is her?" Informed "It is Governor Stratton" she collapsed. It developed that the three girls, each 16, resided in Heyworth and were driving a car which belonged to the grandfather of one of them. They had suddenly decided to turn around and go back to Heyworth.

Riding in the car with the Governor were William W. Downey, Springfield, administrative aid to Stratton, and Robert D. Patton, Springfield, chairman of the State Youth Commission. All escaped unhurt. Downey, who had visions of hitting a telephone pole which Wertz stopped short of, commented: "It's a good thing the Governor believes what he preaches — drive at a slow safe speed."

According to Downey the girls blamed their failure to see the Governor's car behind them when they made the sudden turn, on Halloweeners who had smeared the rear window of their car with soap. The three had been to a filling station to get the window cleaned but the station attendant had left some of the soap and it prevented a clear vision.

1956 CLIPPERS OFFER PUSH-BUTTON MOTORING—Heading the medium priced Clipper line of five models is the Constellation hardtop above. The new Clippers feature electric push-button motoring with an electrically-responsive push-button ultramatic transmission. The new Clipper is on display at the Burgess Motor company, local dealer.

1956 Clippers On Display at Burgess Motor Co.; Feature Push-Button Driving

The 1956 line of Clipper models by the Studebaker-Packard Corp., with a styling individuality of their own and V-8 engines which generate the auto industry's greatest accelerating force and power, go on display today at the Burgess Motor company, local dealer.

The new Clipper models also feature an electrically-activated push-button automatic transmission.

Torsion bar suspension, pioneered on American cars in the luxury car field in 1955, becomes standard equipment on all 1956 Clipper models. The cars are available in a broad selection of body styles in three different series.

Clipper Custom models are powered by a 270-horsepower V-8 engine of 352 cubic-inch displacement with a torque rating of 380 foot pounds at 2,800 rpm. Clipper Super and Deluxe models are powered by a 240-horsepower V-8 of 352 cubic-inch displacement with a torque rating of 350 foot pounds at 2,800 rpm.

Both V-8 engines have a 9.5 to 1 compression ratio, one of the highest in the auto industry, and this high compression ratio is a basic factor for a 15-20 per cent increase in fuel economy and greater ability to deliver usable horsepower in normal speed ranges.

When teamed with the improved Ultramatic transmission, both of the V-8 engines endow in Clipper cars maximum get-away performance from standing starts and safe passing ability in all speed ranges. The 1956 Clipper is capable of accelerating from zero to 60 mph in 10.5 seconds.

Optional equipment on all Clipper models is the electrically-activated Push-Button Ultramatic transmission. This new push-button driving system overcomes the frailities of human temperament and reflexes and does the driver's thinking for him.

Important styling refinements have been carried out by Clipper stylists to establish a new styling philosophy for this line of cars. The 1956 Clipper models feature new grilles, new hood and new hood lines, new rear decks and new "style-stream" taillights.

New safety door latches are standard equipment on all Clipper models. These latches, results of crash tests show, will withstand up to three times the impact of former latches and still hold doors securely closed.

Another safety feature available on Clipper models is a push-button automatic door lock. By touching a button on the instrument panel a driver can automatically lock all the doors of any Clipper model. This device consists of an electric solenoid attached to the locking mechanism of each door. The solenoid is activated by closing the circuit through the push-button, which causes locking devices to go into action simultaneously.

Built-In TV Antenna Leads are Desirable

CHICAGO (AP)—A television manufacturer says TV antenna leads should be installed between the walls when a house is built.

Trav-Ler Radio Corporation's Home Institute said this would dispose of unsightly wires and reduce wear and the need for replacement.

Mrs. Lillian Sloan, director of the institute, said a survey among 10,000 home owners revealed that more than 73 per cent were dissatisfied with their TV antenna leads.

Many persons, she said, complained of the necessity of replacing the lead every three or four years, due to the wearing of insulation.

Others objected to the unsightly appearance of the antenna lead draped down the side of the house, and the necessity of running it around the room inside.

Trailer Honeymoon Pair Ready to Settle Down

HAMBURG, N. Y. — (AP) — Mrs. Albert J. Faustini is ready to settle down in one spot after "honeymooning" for a year in a one-room apartment on wheels that took her and her husband on a 28,000-mile jaunt through the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Faustini, an electronics engineer for five years before the couple was wed in May, 1954, bought a 1947 walk-in panel truck for $575. Then he and his wife spent $300 more and put in nearly three months' work to convert the inside into living quarters.

The do-it-yourselfers then gave a coat of green paint to their mobile home, lettered "The Happy Wanderers" in yellow on the conveyance, and took off.

Now Mrs. Faustini says she's had enough of her home-on-wheels for awhile.

"I'm going to convert from a truck-wife to a housewife," she said.

If You Want Me, Just Whistle

ADRIAN, Mich. — (AP) — Firemen, police and department of public works employes made no progress, despite their extensive equipment, in getting a puppy out of a drain tile.

Volunteers opened a sewer manhole and tried to poke the dog out with a pole. That failed, too.

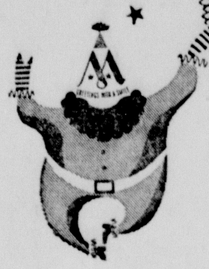

Finally Clarence Kruger, a fireman, leaned over the end of the open tile drain and whistled.

Out came the puppy.

Says Toe-Touching Can Be Harmful

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — (AP) — Those who practice toe-touching as a means of combatting middle-age spread are due for a rude awakening. The "bend-and-grunt" type of exercise doesn't do a bit of good.

That is the opinion of Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse, one time physical fitness adviser at West Point and now physical education instructor at U. C. L. A.

Such time-honored calisthenics as toe-touching, knee-bending and arm-waving, he contends, often do more harm than good. This is because such strenuous practices are likely to further stretch back muscles already made loose and flabby by constant sitting down.

The doctor does honor home exercises and their part in helping one keep physically fit. But, he says, "two-minute sessions a week of the proper exercises" can do the job.

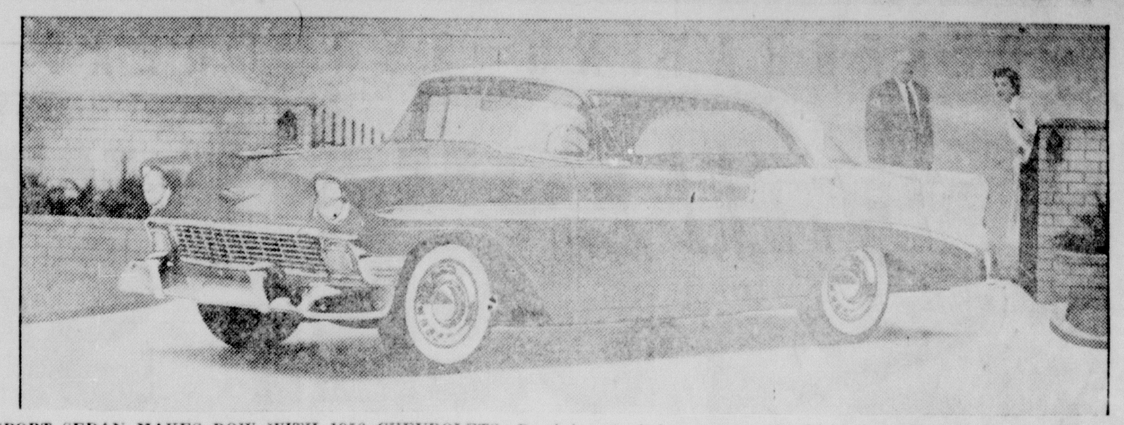

Exercises recommended by Dr. Morehouse, are:

1. Running in place. This will furnish a warm-up and build-up endurance.
2. Neck-stretching exercises.
3. Abdominal toning exercises. Leg-raising from a prone position is helpful here.
4. Arm and shoulder exercises. Push-ups from floor or table.

SPORT SEDAN MAKES BOW WITH 1956 CHEVROLETS—Reminiscent of the sport coupe which Chevrolet introduced with success in 1950, a sport sedan makes its debut along with the company's other new models. Elimination of the center pillar in the window area adds smartness as well as unexcelled visibility. The hardtop sedan will be available in the Bel Air (above) and "Two-Ten," two of three price-graduated series of cars offered by Chevrolet for '56. Engine choices include two more powerful V8's and one 6. The "Super Turbo-Fire V8" develops 205 h. p. The new Chevrolets will be on display Friday at Saline Motor Co., local dealer.

New 1956 Chevrolets On Display Tomorrow at Saline Motor Company

The new 1956 Chevrolets with increased horsepower and a fleeter, more rugged appearance, go on display tomorrow at the Saline Motor Co., local dealer. The new cars are offered in the broadest array of bodies ever produced by the company.

New in the low-price field is a four-door hardtop sport sedan. This car has no obstructing center pillar in the window area. Also introduced for the first time are nine-passenger station wagons, bringing the company's total number of 1956 bodies to 19.

Among outstanding safety features in the 1956 Chevrolet line are the availability of seat belts and shoulder harness; improved, precision-aimed headlights and crash-tested door locks to minimize the possibility of doors being sprung open by shock or collision.

In the 1956 Chevrolet, completely new sheet-metal complements a more massive grille in all models. The grille is a wider, lattice-work design and the effect of staunchness and beauty is aided by a heavier chromium header bar.

The following bodies will be available in the 1956 Chevrolet line:

One-Fifty Series — Two and four-door sedans, utility sedan and two-door, six-passenger station wagon.

Two-Ten Series — Two and four-door sedans, Delray coupe, sport coupe and sedan, two and four-door six passenger station wagons and four-door, nine-passenger station wagon.

Bel Air Series—Two and four-door sedans, sport coupe and sport sedan, convertible, Nomad station wagon and four-door, nine-passenger station wagon.

These 19 models compare with 14 available at the start of 1955 production.

In place of the two sixes of different horsepower that were present in the 1955 line, six-cylinder output will be concentrated on one 140-horsepower engine with an 8 to 1 compression radio. This engine may be coupled with either the Powerglide automatic transmission or the manual shift.

In addition to sixes, the 1956 Chevrolets may be powered by a variety of V8s. One develops 162 horsepower and is installed in cars with the standard shift. The second is designed for Powerglide and produces 170 horsepower. The Super Turbo-Fire with four-barrel carburetor furnishes 205 horsepower. Fitted with a new head, the compression ratio of the Super is at an all-time Chevrolet high of 9.25 to 1.

Optional equipment that scored high favor in the 1955 line again is offered by Chevrolet. These include the gas-saving overdrive, power steering, power brakes and push-button control of seat adjustment and window lifts. Compact air conditioning mechanism that fits under the hood and tinted glass are other optional items on the list.

Directional signals, formerly an extra cost item, are now standard equipment.

Americans to Eat 60 Million Turkeys For Thanksgiving

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Americans will gobble up 60 million turkeys during Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday seasons this year, and pay the highest prices on record for them.

But the meat will be better and there will be plenty to go around for eevryone.

James Hoeksera, poultry manager of Armour Packing Co., said turkey prices will be about 10 per cent higher for top grade birds and there will be three million fewer available for table consumption.

Armour, world's largest supplier of turkeys, estimated retail prices for top grade birds will be near 60 cents a pound for hens and 45 cents a pound for toms.

"Last year, turkeys were so marginal growers lost their shirts and had to get out of the business," Hoeksera said. "Fewer birds were raised, and there are more people now to eat them."

Hoeksera said packers expected ham to give turkey a good battle for this year's holiday meals, because pork is cheap.

"Top grade ham will sell for about the same as turkey," he said.

THE STORY: Viggo Sand's yacht, Vittoria, has reached Haiti, in a treasure hunt which is seeking gold bullion secreted by Nazis in the closing days of the war. Robert Deane, American amateur criminologist, and Bertram Lynch, British intelligence operative, have managed to slip past guards on the yacht to get ashore.

* * *

XVII

The unfinished wall behind which we were now crouching was the northern boundary of a fortress. An unfinished fortress. Though much of it was cluttered with weeds and vines and even a few small trees had managed to take root, enough of the enclosure remained clear to show it was a massive concrete construction.

Lynch gripped my knee. "I've got it! I know where we are."

I poked him sharply with an elbow. Lynch froze.

A blob of shadow on that western rampart had risen and materialized into the shape of a standing man. Its back was to us. For a long minute it stood motionless, clearly outlined against the sky. Because we expected him to be here and because the figure was tall and had wide shoulders and thin hips. It was Meer.

He crossed the upper platform and began to descend one of the stone stairways. For a moment we lost sight of him. Then, Herr Siegfried Meer unconcernedly snapped on a flashlight.

He proceeded carefully to examine the vertical face of the structure which supported the higher platform.

We now saw what we had not been able to see before, that at the bottom of each of the flights of steps was a deeply recessed door, doors, it seemed to me at that distance, and in the flash light's beam, of steel or iron.

At the fourth door, Meer came to a full stop. If a black silhouette and a flashlight can show astonishment and doubt, they showed it. The reason was evident from where we were. The outlines of doors Nos. 1, 2 and 3, except for a certain amount of tropic growth which clung to them, had been plainly visible. And easily accessible to anyone who might have keys. Door No. 4 was totally obscured by a pile of rocks.

"Siggy," I whispered to Lynch "seems to be a mite confused. Something new had been added."

It was Lynch's turn to elbow me. He jabbed a pointing finger excitedly.

Meer was not alone. A figure was plainly visible in the moonlight. Had we not been so intent on watching Meer, we must have seen it long before. It was a man of course.

Meer spun around with a violent start. For a split second the beam of his flashlight played whitely on a face almost lost in a great tangle of blonde beard and a mane of unkempt hair. Meer screamed—a piercing, agonizing, nerve-jangling scream. When Meer turned toward him, with the moonlight on his face, the huge body instantly became galvanized with fury. With a wild cry he flung himself upon Meer.

* * *

Lynch got there first, I an instant later. We were none too soon.

The two men were in a thrashing muddle on the ground, the bearded giant uppermost. He had both hands around Meer's throat and was pounding his head murderously upon the stones. He was shouting, "Dieb! Verraeter! Moerder!"

I got hold of one arm, Lynch the other. It was like seizing the trunk of a stout tree.

With both of us hanging on him, the big man staggered to his feet. He had let go of Meer. He was dressed in a kind of smock and loose trousers so ragged they were nearly in ribbons. He was barefoot. In our close embrace the creature stank of dirtiness.

A mannered, self-possessed voice at our elbows said: "Like me to lend a hand?"

The voice belonged to Reginald Dibble. He was standing not two yards from us, looking in the moonlight very unruffled. He was—of all things—smoking a cigaret. His attention was on Siegfried Meer.

Panting, dazed, almost helpless, Meer struggled to his feet. He stood half-leaning against the concrete wall near one of the iron doors.

Again, many things happened in swift succession. There was a red flash; a reverberation boom which then seemed to echo for many seconds through the hills; and an even louder—and closer—CLANG of metal; the angry, insect-like zzzzz-ing of fragments of lead bounding about amid the rocks.

Someone had shot. At which one of us it was impossible to say.

With a coolness and precision of action of which I would never have thought him capable, Dibble jerked a small revolver from a hip pocket, leveled it and fired.

"You saw where it came from?" Lynch demanded.

Dibble waved his revolver. Its nickel plating glittered. "Yes. By that opening where you chaps came in."

* * *

Dibble made a gesture with his female-sized gun before putting it away.

"Viggo sent me ashore with what one might call a 'watching brief.' I'd frankly no idea there'd be so much to watch."

He was standing, half-crouched, near that iron door against which the bullet had struck. Both hands covered his face. He was sobbing hysterically.

Lynch reached Meer in one stride.

"See a ghost, Lieutenant?"

"Ja! Ja!"

First Baptist R. A.'s Entertain G. A.'s With Halloween Party

The R. A.'s of the First Baptist church entertained the G. A.'s with a Halloween party Monday night. Forty four boys and girls in Halloween costumes and masks gathered in the church basement for an enjoyable evening.

After everyone had unmasked prizes were given. Mary Ann Barger was the last one to unmask. A scavanger hunt was held with prizes being given to the winning team which was successful in bringing back several "hard to get" articles. On the list was the signature of the mayor of the town.

After more games were played a prayer of thanks was offered by the R. A. counselor and church pastor, Rev. Howard Todd Taylor.

Refreshments were served after which the boys and girls departed. Mrs. Dorothy Mings, G. A. helper, assisted with the evening's entertainment.

Several from here attended the "Hymn Sing" at Ledford Baptist church Sunday afternoon. Raleigh was second in attendance, the host church having the largest attendance by one. The Raleigh cherub choir sang, accompanied at the piano by Darlene Goodson. There were soloists and quartets from other churches and a choir of 50 men from the audience. Congregational singing was enjoyed by all. Several churches were represented. Mrs. Montgomery is doing fine work encouraging singing especially among the youth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Yates were bereaved by the death of their great-grandson, five weeks old Stephen Wayne Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitt Wesley have bought property on Main street and are now living at their new address.

Mary Ann Barger was an all night guest of Darlene Goodson Monday night. They attended the Halloween party at the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Ruth Bradshaw is a patient in the Ferrell hospital.

Earl Heathman is ill with virus influenza. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Heathman of Indianapolis, Ind., have recently been here to visit with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertis Bruce of Wilmington spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Mitt Wesley.

David Bishop of Moline is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cline Bishop.

Work, Sleep, Play In Comfort
Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys — tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable...with restless, sleepless nights...don't wait...try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Get Doan's Pills today!

The 26-inning 1-1 tie game between Brooklyn and Boston on May 1, 1920, is the longest game in major league history.

Glaciers on Washington State's Olympic Peninsula, like others in temperate lands throughout the world, are dwindling, says the National Geographic Society. In the 15 years between 1938 and 1953, Blue Glacier just northwest of Mt. Olympus has shortened by more than 800 feet, and since 1919 by nearly three-quarters of a mile. Many ice fields disappeared but more than 50, covering 25 to 30 square miles, persist.
